LOCAL BUZZINGS.

News Notes - Personal Paragraphs and Other Doings at Home Worthy of Special Mention

Rhins Tablets: one given relief. Try the Paragon Ham. Best on earth. For sale at all groceries.

The authorities of our town have ordered a general clean-up. See notice of same in another column.

The Y. P. S. C. E. held a social meeting at the residence of James R. Raab to-morrow evening.

E. T. Frank, a genuine Republican, speaks at Madisonville Friday and Nebo that night. Don't fail to hear him.

Mat Browning, a young man 22 years of age son of Charles Browning of this city, died of paralysis on Monday of this week.

Frank Arnold is entitled to the belt as a midget. Early yesterday morning he shot and killed three squirrels at two shots. He will go again in a few days to beat this record.

Early next week, J. T. Hampton will remove his family to Cloverport, Ky. He has accepted a position with the L. & N. and T. railroad company and will work in the shops of that company.

After a long dry spell, a much needed rain fell here on Monday night. Late corn and tobacco will be much benefited by this timely moisture, while the dry, sultry atmosphere has been much cooler and freshened thereby.

John Landon, of the Nebo country, proposes to organize a singing class in this city. He will be here in a few days for that purpose. He comes well recommended by the Revs. J. S. Cox and J. H. Booth and others of Madisonville.

George W. Robinson received a fall last Friday which came near resulting fatally. While at work on the new M. E. church he lost his balance and fell several feet to the ground, breaking his right arm and bruising his head considerably. From last accounts he is improving.

Hon. E. G. Sebree, jr., is to be master of ceremonies, or symposium, of the banquet in honor of Supreme Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of the world, W. W. Blockwell, Thursday night. He just exactly fits the place and swing there as gracefully as a star in its orbit. -Henderson Democrat.

Will S. Magenheimer, formerly of this place, and whose parents reside here, was injured a week or ten days ago while working for the Illinois Central railroad and is now in the St. Francis Hospital, at Peoria, Ill. His injuries are not of a serious character, and he reports that he will be able to resume his duties in about a week.

Hopkinsville has a suspicious negro character under arrest. He gave as his name P. H. Hightower when arrested on the charge of grand larceny and burglary. He had broken into the home of Jack Camp and stolen a valuable watch. He is supposed to be a notorious criminal known by some other name than the one given by him.

News received from Providence states that during Monday night's rainstorm there was an actual downpour of grasshoppers, many of them from one and one-half to two inches in length. They were evidently migrating, and while in that vicinity, were overtaken by the heavy rainfall which visited that section the night in question.

An application was made before the Board of Town Trustees, at its meeting Monday night, to open a shooting gallery within the limits of the town. A damper was thrown upon the hopes of this enterprising individual by the board declaring a license of eight and one-third dollars per month or one hundred dollars per year. There will be no shooting gallery just at present.

Joe Clark, who for several years has been mine foreman of the South Diamond Mines at Morton's Gap, died on Monday. Mr. Clark had been a faithful and trusted employee of the company for about twenty years. Two years ago, on account of declining health, he was compelled to retire from work and from that time he has been an invalid. He was about 65 years of age. A wife, son and daughter survive him.

At Henry Ford's, (col.) near the Hecla mines, was a scene of carousing and fighting enacted. The two principals were Frank Jeffries and Simon Fegan, both white boys living in that vicinity. They had been drinking "angle-foot" stimulants from a glass jar, which, on getting empty, was broken and used by the two young men in carving each other. Fegan received several cuts about the neck and Jeffries was severely cut about the hands. Jeffries has left for unknown parts.

Democratic Convention. Pursuant to a call, the Democratic voters of this election precinct met in convention last Saturday for the purpose of electing delegates to the Princeton convention, to be held September 16th, for the purpose of nominating a circuit judge and commonwealth's attorney. The meeting was well attended. The following delegates were elected: T. D. Walker, P. H. Davis, Geo. W. Raab and J. M. Victory.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

If you have any visitors send us their names for mention in this column. We will appreciate the favor.

Jno. Pendleton, of Pembroke, was in the city yesterday.

Chesley Williams, of Morton's Gap, was in town yesterday.

M. Cain and wife, of Morton's Gap were in this city Tuesday.

Claude Baker, of Paducah, is in the city settling some business affairs.

Mrs. Lillie Beall, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Cordier.

Mrs. Dubuison, of Henderson, visited relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

L. P. Crutcher will visit his home in Missouri for a few weeks. He will leave here tonight.

Dr. A. W. Jackson and family returned Friday from Boston, where they had been visiting relatives.

Miss Bertha Doyal has returned home after several weeks' visit to Owensboro and Henderson friends.

Judge Farnsworth and wife visited their son, W. W. Farnsworth and family, in Nashville last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mary L. Withers and little sister, of Henderson, made their sister, Mrs. G. W. Rash, of this city, a visit of a few days last week.

George Frazer, a young man who has made many friends while a resident of Earlington, will make Evansville his future home.

W. C. T. U. All members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and those interested in the work are invited to meet at the home of the president, Mrs. W. F. Burr, on Monday evening, September 18th, at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. C. H. McGary, Sec.

A Fight that Don't Count. The Allen men made a vigorous fight here to control last Saturday's Convention. It was fought to the bitter end. Even now, although severely scored, the Allenites attempt to bob up serenely. It won't do. The Nunnites have had their say and the other faction must drop into line and follow the procession.

Love Takes a Leap. Two young couples—Dan Holland, of this city and Miss Nona Wise, of Slaughter'sville and W. A. Wise and Miss Bettie Ashby, both of this place, stole the march on their friends one day last week by taking the train to Springfield, Tenn. There they were united in marriage, shifting upon themselves the joys, cares and responsibilities of married life. Marriage is no failure in the eyes of these young people. Both couples will make this their place of residence. Success to them, and may happiness be theirs.

"Poor Dugie." "The Board of Trustees of the town of Earlington give notice that on and after date (Monday, September 18th) a license of one dollar per head on all dogs will be collected by the town marshal. The above is an ordinance passed by our city dads last Monday night. So if you love your dog and want to keep him, pay this tax. Our only kick is the tax is not high enough."

The Hog Has Had His Day. The Earlington hog is doomed. The following town ordinance goes into effect December 1st, next: "All owners of hogs on and after December 1st are notified their hogs are to be kept off the streets of the town. Any violation of this ordinance will result in the impounding all animals at large and the imposition of the fines on owners thereof." The action of the Board of Trustees is certainly a just one. The hog or anything like a hog should be kept off the public streets.

Special Notice to All Household. Your Board of Trustees hereby notifies all citizens that nuisances of all kinds must, at once, be abated. Special attention is requested to all out-houses which must be cleaned and lime freely used. The town marshal will present a notice and a reasonable time will be allowed in which to abate any nuisance.

Failures to attend to needed cleaning of premises will result in the marshal employing help in abating nuisances and the cost of said labor will be collected by the Marshal from the owner or renter of the premises so cleaned.

All good citizens are interested in this work, as the National Board of Health demands rigid attention by local boards, as to the condition of streets, alleys, yards, stables, out-houses, etc., in all towns.

As proper precautions in this direction may avert the spread of disease, we would ask the hearty co-operation of our citizens. By order of the Board of Trustees.

W. F. Burr, Town Clerk. Earlington, Ky., Sept. 12, 1922.

Buy your meats and lard at W. C. McLeod's. His prices are bottom.

Two Hare Thieves Caught. Early Saturday morning Marshal J. T. Barnett received a description by mail of two horses belonging to George Crawford, a Henderson county farmer living near Corydon, which had been stolen from his pasture Thursday night. Two strangers riding horses answering this description had passed through here late Friday afternoon. They were next heard from as being at Morton's Gap, where an attempt had been made to sell the horses. Instantly on learning this he summoned Jack Dockery to his aid and started in hot pursuit, but reached Morton's Gap two hours after their birds had flown. "Squire Slaton here joined the pursuing party, and the trio, after a ride of twelve miles, overtook the thieves three miles south of White Plains. They gave as their names Andrew Crawford and Ace Abbott, both young men not being more than 20 years of age. The animals stolen were worth probably $150 each. Both men acknowledged to taking the horses. Mr. Crawford was notified by telegraph that both men and horses were in custody and that they would be in Corydon on Sunday. Marshal Barnett left for Corydon Saturday night with his prisoners and horses. Upon the conviction of the men Marshall Barnett will be entitled to a reward of over $100.

Resolutions of Condolence.

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to call from our circle our friend and much loved brother, John Clark; therefore, be it

Resolved, 1st, That in the death of Bro. Clark, E. W. Turner Lodge has lost a devoted member, the Masonic fraternity a devoted friend, the community a good citizen and an honest man; his family a devoted husband and fond parent, and while we deplore his loss, we extend to his family the profound sympathy of his brothers of the Mystic Tie, and pray that they and us may like him, prepare for the great beyond where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest.

Resolved, 2d, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and that they be spread upon the minutes of the lodge, and published in The Bee, and

Resolved, 3d, That the charter be draped and that the membership wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

J. K. Raab, W. A. Toombs, Committee.

Convention Notes. Three to one is the way it stands. "Booze and boodle" failed to get there. The jug stationed the furthest from the polls contained the best "licker."

Nunn and Gordon are Hopkins County's choice for Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney.

The Allen enthusiasts, who threatened the Hopkins Democracy, did their champion no good.

The chairman respectfully requests those wishing to give him a cousin to first state which side they were on.

They do say that the Captain "writ" at his few more letters and postals—containing what were given away on a wager.

Although free-for-all, the barrel-house, in close proximity to the polls, during Saturday's primary, was not altogether a very genteel affair.

MADISONVILLE. Mrs. M. M. Murphy is in St. Louis.

The Dempsey vote over Hall's, in the county, was 320.

Tom Barbour, a popular show drummer, was here yesterday.

The M. E. Conference convenes the 26th of this month at Louisville, Ky.

The work on the foundation of the new court house is well under way.

There is less "button-hole" talk on the streets since Saturday's primary.

Miss Birdie Jernigan has returned to school at Lexington to resume her studies.

Harry Nisbet has accepted the position of foreman in the Hasler printing office.

Capt. Hochersmith has the contract to do the brickwork on W. A. Nisbet's livery stable.

"Squire W. D. Crow, the Third party nominee for County Judge, declines to accept the nomination.

An invitation is extended to all voters, irrespective of party to turn out to hear the Hon. E. T. Frank, Friday at 2 o'clock.

Uncle Daniel Brown is never happier than when he has a full stock of jail-birds. He now has thirteen, with a promise of more.

E. B. Barnhill, of this city, and Miss Grace Humphrey, of Webster county, were married one day last week. Rev. T. N. Compton was the officiating clergyman.

If the signs of the times don't fail, Flem Gordon will get the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth Attorney. The voters of Hopkins and Livingston counties are enough to insure his election, and both counties are for him.

The Republican County Committee met on Monday and decided it would be for the best interests of the party to put out a county ticket. For the purpose of nominating a ticket, a mass meeting of all Republicans in the county is called for Monday, the 26th instant, at Madisonville.

ST. CHARLES. Miss Phronia Murphy is recovering from a spell of sickness.

Bro. Thomas filled his regular appointment here on the second Sunday.

The Democratic Primary held here last Saturday declared loudly for Dempsey.

Henry Faull left on the 1st inst., to attend school at Brown's Cross Roads, Ky.

A. M. Brown has returned from an extended trip to Texas. "All" export Kentucky the best.

E. J. Sisk has sold his interest in the saw mill and will engage in some other enterprise, probably in this county.

Will Faull, who is at present located at Springfield, Tenn., spent last Sunday at the home of his parents at this place.

The new Town Trustees mean business and are doing good work by putting a stone abutment bridge over Caney, between town and the depot.

CRABTREE. The organ is an assured success.

Our ardent young man was in St. Charles, Sunday.

The Bee low line is hitched on to that organ and it has to come.

Beau Brummell and the Captain took in the ball at St. Charles on the 8th.

Greeting to you, I say, you are a good one if you do wear long hair.

Jas. Lacey went to St. Charles, Saturday night and tackled the dog successfully.

Col. J. M. Carroll and wife visited friends at St. Charles the latter part of last week.

J. V. Ray and family are making an extended visit to relatives near De Koven.

Mr. Harland went to St. Charles on the 11th and brought Grandma Spangler home.

Mr. G. W. Rash and friends visited Mr. Salmon and wife, and there was music in the air.

The Judge and Major, accompanied by a large posse made a sortie on Dawson on the 11th. Nobody hurt.

Crawford Sweeney, accompanied by his mother and family, visited his brother, Napoleon, on the 11th.

Every man we have spoken to will cheerfully give the car of coal for the organ. Both white and black are in favor of it.

Jim don't have to black that mustache any more. Our Judge tied the matrimonial knot, and now he has other us for his money.

Rev. Taylor talks of moving to our town. He is welcome, for we have plenty of room and a hearty welcome for all good people who come our way.

Will Matthey lost his first and only baby. It is sad to lose our loved ones, but we should be reconciled with the thought that our loss is their gain.

The Major went fishing on the 7th with the usual result. When I went fishing I always brought fish home if I had to buy them. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

Let some morning be named when work will not begin until quartering time, get all the men together and talk organ. Then a cap piece with a big O on it will designate the organ car, and the regular ticket will tell who gave it.

That they seven up troop is only a very small side show compared to the free menagerie to be seen around the pump. Verily, every one man is as good as another, no matter about the color. Yes, one man is good as another, and a good deal better too.

A new line of harness and nobby saddlery at W. C. McLeod's.

Just Watch Her Shop. Watch a woman at her "shopping." It is a serious business. She wants a fabric that is a yard wide and warranted to wash, and such goods abound, but this one will not harmonize with her complexion and that one she would tire of in a week, a third is too conspicuous, a fourth is shoddy, and so on to the forty-fourth. They do not suit her and she wants what she wants. She will look further, and if she cannot suit herself better she may return. If she does, often than otherwise she will find that the only goods that she "took any notion to" are gone.

A man who goes shopping goes to buy. He is more deluded than is woman with colors that will not wash. He takes goods at their face value usually and, though his method of choosing seems smart and expeditious, it does sometime entail sober second thought. There is this to say about a woman's more time consuming methods. When she has half a chance to choose wisely and suit herself she is very much wiser and rejoices over her possession to the end of its day or here.

New goods daily at W. C. McLeod's great bargain grocery store.

Household Decorations. In decorative art there are two books to be studied, the book of history and the book of nature. These should be taken together, neither being neglected, for one explains the other. From the historical records of art we gather the results of experience and see the interpretations of natural laws. From nature we get inspirations and the material for our practice. If we disregard what has already been done we must ever remain in artistic infancy, and again if we close our eyes to the works of nature, relying upon the treasures of the past, then our work will be retrogressive from the want of that vitality which is the pulse of nature alone can give.

Dead Heat (humily, to swell old-time friend of his)—Lend me five Bob. Swell (handing it over)—Now, old man, for goodness sake don't go and spend it for drink. Water elevators at C. E. Owen's, Madisonville, Ky.

Hard Reading. A disappointed aspirant to literary honors asserts that even in the best publishing houses manuscripts offered for inspection are not read, unless the authors are well known. This is pure nonsense. How is a publisher to peruse his trade-and occasionally, at all events—accepting manuscripts? As for the well known authors, the day must dawn on which they cease to write, and if newer writers are neglected meanwhile, they will then be nothing left to publish. The truth of the matter is that rejected contributors can never negotiate in the justice of their rejection; they always attribute it to prejudice, or want of appreciation, or neglect. Moreover, their work has not had a fair chance, they think, unless it is read "from title-page to closing line." It never strikes them that it is useless for the publishers to read further than the ordinary reader will, yet he has a pretty good judgment of the limit of the public patience. Some writers are conscious that they are a little slow in developing the interest of their book. "You will find," they say, "my twenty-first chapter particularly striking and well written. We get through the twenty-second chapter if the first chapter is hard reading it may not unreasonably be taken as a sample of the whole, for it generally contains the most important writer's best work, written before the first inspiration has died out and before the twilight of his own words begins."

YES, SIR! Buy where you can buy the cheapest. You are looking for J. T. Alexander & Co.'s large stock of dress goods, clothing, etc.

Jonsey's Break. Jonsey has oratorical aspirations although he makes a bad break of some kind every time he gets up before an audience. His last break was so awful that it is doubtful if he ever tries to orate again on earth. It was at a woman suffragist dinner. He was closed up a really forcible series of illustrations by saying:

"And it is now an undisputed fact that many of the most successful business men of the day are women."

Red light! Green curtain! Convulsed audience. Horror-stricken Jonsey. Smith, Gray & Co.'s Monthly.

NO PART of Australia is so hot and so unhealthy as to forbid white settlement, and if the strip of low lying coast lands in the north be omitted there is no part of it yet colonized in which Europeans or Americans cannot work.

The Australian city of Melbourne, which was founded less than fifty years ago, has already a population of nearly half a million, and stands fifth among the cities of the British empire. It is now a great shipping port, and its slum quarters is small.

FACTS. There is not a better equipped printing office than this in the county, nor is there one in the State turning out printing superior to that executed in this office. Our rates are the lowest. All in need of first-class printing, no matter where you are or what particular kind of printing you want, you will do us a favor and yourself a kindness by writing us for prices and giving minute details of work wanted.

THE DUDE MADE TO ORDER.

Small russet shoes, a belt and a blazer, The crease in his trousers as shabby as a razor.

A broad-brimmed straw hat, with hat little beneath, A feeble mustache and a smile full of teeth, A stick held just so and a pup on a string, He looks when he walks as if worked by a spring.

Colored People's Column.

All communications and matters of news pertaining to this column should be addressed to J. B. HAWKINS, Earlington, Ky.

P. Duncan is ill.

Leo Noel is on the sick list.

Jerry McNary was on the sick last week.

Ror. Driver, of Morton's Gap, was in the city Sunday.

Mrs. Fannie Miller is visiting friends and relatives in Trenton.

John Harris returned last week and resumed his work this week.

Miss Annie Bishop, of Madisonville, was the guest of Thos. Vance, Sunday.

Mrs. Laura Coleman, of Hopkinsville, is a guest of the family of S. P. Kattell.

Mrs. Malinda Ray goes to Clarksville today, on a visit to friends and relatives.

Mrs. Morton, of Morton's Gap, was the guest of Mrs. T. H. Merriweather, Sunday.

Abe Osborne and lady drove to Madisonville Sunday, on a visit to his sick sister.

Don't forget the excursion train leaves here at 6:45 o'clock next Thursday morning.

Wm. Maxey, of Monticello, Ga., is in the city, visiting the family of W. C. Phillips.

Robert Smith and Lige Pritchett went to Madisonville Saturday night to see their best girls.

Rev. G. W. Lane, of Morton's Gap, preached at the A. M. E. Zion Church Sunday.

W. H. Ross, Jackson and several others, of Madisonville, attended the Odd Fellow's Council here last week.

Every one is invited to be present at the A. M. E. Zion Sunday School Entertainment, Sunday, September 18th, at 2 o'clock p. m.

W. C. Phillips' baby was taken with spasms Sunday. It was thought that the little fellow would peg out, but soon got relief and is now on the mend.

John Miller and Thos. Shelton have gone to Junction City, at which place they will run machinery in the Alpine mines at $3.50 per day. That's right, boys go, the fewer left the better share for us.

The probability is that there will be an assistant teacher in our public school this term. We believe it would prove to be a great benefit to the school trustees. Just right. That's what we want, a good school.

Sarah Clemens lost a brown gingham apron, while carrying a basket of clothes to Mrs. Raab. It was lost on the street. Any one finding it will please return it to Sarah Clemens, and you will be rewarded.

Mrs. Minnie Rogers, probably the oldest lady in the county, age over 100 years, departed this life Sunday morning at about 9 o'clock. She was the mother of Mrs. Len Bailey. She was carried to Greenville for interment. Much sympathy to the bereaved family.

Prof. A. R. Bailey, of Uniontown, is in the city and will stay nine months at least. He has a first-class certificate, and we anticipate a good school. Prof. Bailey opened the school doors on Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock, and enrolled 87 pupils. Parents, send your children to school, if you make a sacrifice upon you part to do so.

The Afro-American League will meet at Madisonville, September 30, at 9 o'clock, at the Odd Fellow's hall. This meeting is called for the purpose of gathering what money has been raised at different places, and what can be raised that day to send to Frankfort to defray the expenses of testing the constitutionality of the Separate Coach Bill, passed by the Kentucky Legislature.

Sister Rachel Bailey departed this life Jan. 11, 1922. She left seven children. She professed a hope in Christ in 1843, and joined the white Methodist Church. After living in that church 38 years, she then joined the Baptist, under the pastoral charge of G. H. Grant, and lived in it 11 years. At her death she requested Rev. J. W. Selekman to preach her funeral. His text was Romans 8th chapter and 9th verse. The collection from the people was $7.70 and the family $5, making a total of $12.70.

The colored citizens met in a mass meeting last Tuesday night, at the Odd Fellow's hall and organized a Harrison and Reid Club, with Abe Osborne as President and J. E. Todd, Secretary. The remaining officers were also filled with good men. After some business was transacted, Mr. Burr, of the St. Bernard office, addressed the club with a soul stirring talk. Mr. Burr is a red hot Republican and can tell about it. Mr. Burr came again. T. H. Merriweather followed Mr. Burr, and was a little slow to speak, but every time he said a word he hit the nail on the head.

THE HANDSOME Clothing at J. T. Alexander & Co.'s is simply "out of sight." Call on them for prices.

Talk of the Town. The wonderful sale of Yonatan Chili Tonic. The reasons for all this is it has never failed to cure the chills when properly taken according to directions and its pleasant taste. Children do not object to take it. They ask for more after the
